"The Horns Must Go." Kansas City Live Stock Indicator.]

When the subject of dehorring cattle was first brought into public prominence by the arrest of its originator at the instance of the Humane Society of Illinois, upon hundreds of stockmen who had never before dreamed of such a among their herds, became eager to learn the process by which their unruly horned animals could be controlled, and it is a safe assertion that the prosecution of Mr. Haaff was a better means than he himself could have thought of to bring forward the advantages to the farmer resulting from the dehorning of their herds.

Stock Indicator editorially indorsed the dehorning idea, and a little later raised its voice emphatically in favor of the removal of the horns, the first journal having the courage to do so, and to-day, less than three years since Mr. Haaff's prosecution, which resulted, as is well-known, in a complete as is well-known, in a complete vindication, it is a fact that the horns have been removed from at least 100,000 in the west alone; and that as many more will be dehorned this year does not admit of doubt. Wherever the experiment has been tried new couverts have been found, and in not a single instance have we heard of any loss resulting from the operation.

The only argument against the practice comes from that class of persons who can see that it is a cruel operation, and indeed it is, hence they say that it is contrary to Christianity as well as humanity. Yet these same persons never flinch when an animal is to be spayed or castrated, or branded with a red-hot iron, because, forsooth, that has been practiced so long that it acts upon these people about as Pope says in his essay on

"Vice is a monster of such frightful mien, That to be hated, needs but to be seen; Yet seen too oft, familiar with her face, We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

But when we consider that by this one act of cruelty, if it may be so admitted, we prevent hundreds of other acts of cruelty perpetrated by the animals themselves, the so-called heartlessness of he who undertakes to dehorn his animals entirely disappears. Men of superior intellect are not slow to adopt new measures in controlling SUMMIT, PLUMAS CO., CAL the brute creation, any more than to follow in the wake of the "cranks" who first put to use steam and electricity. The world moves, and notwithstanding most great men who have brought forward Groceries and Provisions by their fellows, yet the very persecutions they had to undergo were the best means of carrying their ideas forward, until finally they are dopted by the intelligent of the entire world.

So, too, will it be with dehornng cattle, and while we do not expect that the present generation of breeders of pure-bred horned animals will have the courage to undertake the work, time will eventually prove that it is a wise procedure, and though it may take long years to completely eradicate the horns, yet we are convinced that eventually the horns must go.

No other Spring medicine has won fir itself such universal confidence as Ayer's sarsapariti. It is the most powerful c.m. bration of vegetable a teratives ever offered to the public, and is acknowledged by the medical procession to be the best blood purifier.

LANDS FAMED FOR RICHNESS

Along the Feather River. GROVES OF MAMMOTH OAKS OF SURPASSING BEAUTY

Best of Soils for Oranges, Lemons, Figs, Peaches, Cherries, and all Tropical and other Fruits.

O BONITO COLONY LANDS ARE LOCATED IN BUTTE COUNTY California, and along the prettiest part of Feather River. They are about eight miles south of Oroville, three miles from Gridley, and two miles from Biggs, on the Oregon and California Railroad, and seventy-three miles from Sacramento. There are growing on the lands white oak trees, some of which are thirty-five feet in circumference. The soil is a rich, sandy loam, and cannot be surpassed in productiveness. Citrus and all kinds of deciduous fruits ripen here to perfection. Rio Bonito Colony Lands are a garden spot, and are certain to be the most popular for homes of any to be found in Central California.

Testimonials on the Land by Leading Butte County Citizens and

I have been over your tract of land | With proper cultivation it will raise on the Feather River a hundred times. There is no better land and no better place for a colony in the world.

As fertile and valuable tract of land as there is in Butte County. Just the kind of land for fruit culture; there is none better. JACOB KRUSICK, Gridley.

It is all splendid fruit land withon reigntion. WM. SHARKEY, Biggs.

I regard your tract as the best body of land in California. Geo. W. Crum. Battle Mountain, Nev.

One of the finest bodies of land in the world; there is no bottom to the soil, and every inch of it is rich.

all kinds of vegetables, fruits and vines W. A. Shipper, Nelson.

My orange trees on land within a mile of yours have done magnificently.

They began bearing the third year from planting, and are now hanging full of splendid golden fruit. THOS. HUTCHINS, Gridley.

I cannot speak too highly of the merits of your soil; none better in the State for stone fruits. The oranges now growing in my front yard are of as growth as I have ever seen anywhere

If your land were in fruit bearing trees, the land would be worth and would pay a good interest on an invest-ment of $500 per acre. Our orchard of 75 acres adjoining your place, this year yielded at the rate of $300 per acre.

JOHN C. GRAY, Oroville,

JAS. HENNIGER, Gridley,

Executors Hilger's Estate.

On such land as yours, all kinds of fruit do well. A test of 75 of my apple trees showed a yield last year at the rate of 1,000 per acre. There has not been even one failure of my apple crop in 30 years. Phillip Heyner,

My orchard is 27 years old, and ad-oining your land which is exactly the same as mine. The net average yield per acre, without irrigation, has been not less than $200 per annum. I have not lost a fruit crop in 27 years from frost or any other cause.

D. Streeter, Biggs. A body of land as valuable and well adapted for all purposes of agriculture, especially innit raising, as any land known to me.

G. K. SMITH,

Banker, Biggs.

J. STREETER, Biggs.

I know the great capabilities of your place as a fruit ranch. In five years after planting, that land in olives would yield fully $300 per acre in oil, and will increase year after year until its annual yield will exceed $500.

JOHN C. GRAY, Dief Att.

This section of Eutte County is one of the best in California for fruit culture. Such land as this, if set out to fruits, would, at the end of three years, it is estimated, be worth at least $500 per acre. At this rate, twenty acres in fruit within three years would be worth $10,000. The managers will take charge of the setting out of fruit trees for purchasers of land, and at the actual cost of doing the same.

The land is now for sale in tracts to suit at $100 per acre, on easy as—one-third cash; balance in one, two and three years at eight per cent.

Buy ticket to Biggs. Fare from San Francisco, $5.20; from Sacranento, $2.20. Stages from Oroville to Biggs pass the land daily. Send for irculars.

THE letter of Judge Hoffman to Senator Stewart is a frank' admission of the error of the courts in assuming to take Chinese applicants to land out of the hands of the custom-house. The San Francisco Call, in discussing the matter, says that congress gives the custom-house precise directions as to the mode of procedure when Chinese armode of procedure when Chinese arrive. If the applicant to land has the certificate the law provides, and, if that certificate the law provides, and, if that certificate corresponds with his personal appearance, he is permitted to land. If he has no such certificate, he is restrained from landing. Congress is responsible for this treatment of Chinese. If perchance a Chinaman who had a right to land should be turned back, the remedy would lie in an appeal to the representative of the Chinese government in the United States. The law was an attempt to enforce the treaty with all possible respect to each and all of its provisions. But the law made no provision for the return of such Chinese as left this country between the dates of the signing of the treaty and the enforcement of the Restriction Act. In the number unprovided for are those who arrived after the treaty was signed, and claimed the benefits of its provisions. It mas manifestly impossible, as Judge Hoffman has now become convinced, to examine all the cases in court. The law should have been executed, and if there were cases of hardship, the responsibility and the remedy rested with the law-making power. As it is the Federal courts, having disregarded an act of congress, now ask congress to get them out of the trouble they got themselves into.

The proposition to move Libby Prison stone by stone and set it up in Chicago just as it stands in Richmond, is not a pleasant one, says rive. If the applicant to land has in Chicago just as it stands in Richmond, is not a pleasant one, says the New York Journal, but it exhibits the aud seity of the showman of the period. We hope it is only a visionary scheme, and may not become a reality. It proposes to base a speculation upon the groans and miseries of the gallant fellows who died in that wretched place. If moved it would be a monument indeed, but a monument to cultivate sectional bate, and to perpetuate the memory of things so atrocious that we ought all rather to desire to forget them. Civilization reaches toward the conception that monuments to national glory might well be put aside. Let us at tion when the sentence was proleast not perpetuate remembrance of the nightmares of history.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW is a man who, like Evarts, has the faculty of condensing much political wisdom into a single sentence. No one has given a better description of Cleveland than he gave in a speech in Chicago, when he de-scribed the President as "an official highly esteemed for singlar honesty and directness of purpose, and re-markable for inexperience in the duties of government and for ignorance of the great issues before the country." And in a speech before the New York Press Club he wittily and truly defined the Mugwumps as those "whose distinguishng characteristic is that they be-

MRS. AMMEN, the Cleveland lady who defled the courts and spent over a month in jail rather than rereal the hiding place of a young helress, has demonstrated anew that when a woman is stubborn she is more stiff-necked than any man. In her case she had given a solemn promise to a dying friend, and she thought the courts, in try-ing to make her break the promise, were aiding conspirators against her young protege. There was no element of self-interest mingled with her act, and she must certainly be be given full credit for the courage of her convictions. There are few men who would have had the pa-tience or the moral courage to re-sist, as she did, the pressure of the court.

Dr. McGLYNN has gone to law to prevent Henry George from organizing an opposition Anti-Poverty Society. As George appears to have all the money in the outfit, the Ban Francisco Alta proposes a compromise: Let George take the anti-and give McGlynn all the poverty. That seems to be all, anyway, that McGlynn stands any show of getting.

WHEN a large tree is cleared away in the forest the smaller trees in the vicinity make an unwonted growth; so in the political forest. Blaine has been removed and now are to be seen many smaller man appringing up claiming to be big smouth for providential timber.

PLEADING FOR MERCY.

C. P. Huntington Writes a Letter WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.-The House Committee on Pacific Railways received a letter from C. P. Huntington this morning. In it he calls atter to the fact that he was prevented by reason of interruptions from giving a full answer at the last hearing to the question put, as to what the Central Pacific Railway has done towards paying its debt at maturity. He, therefore, thinks it advisable to make it in writing. After a resume of the ineffectual efforts of the government and company to provide for the debt, he tells how the directors of the company in 1878, resolved to create a sinking fund in their own treasury to meet its debt. It is now apparent, he says, that the money could not be made to

ANSCHLAG SENTENCED.

The Murderer Showed no Emo of the Crowd.

Los Angeles, Feb. 25 -Anschlag, who murdered Charles Hitchcock and wife at Garden Grove, near Santa Ana, on January 23 i last, was sentenced by Judge Cheney la the Superior Court yesterday morning, to be hanged for the crime. The courtroom was packed to suffocation with excited

After denying the motion for a new trial, the judge took the precaution to order the deputies to arrest anyone who should make the least demonstranounced.

Judge Cheney then, in low but firm tones, pronounced the fatal words which sealed Anschlag's doom. As the awful words, "hanged by the neck until you are dead," fell on the ear of the murderer, scarcely a shadow of emotion was perceptible beyond a very slight tremor of the lip, and not a word escaped him, while his interpreter, Wagstaff, presented a ghastly picture. The latter was deathly pale, great beads of perspiration stood out on his face. The moment the ventence was finished, deputies hurried the murderer out and back to the jail, closely followed by a dense crowd. Anschlag looked back on the crowd as he got out, and their faces more than anything else seemed to impress him that he must soon die. He threw up his hands and cried, "My God!" These were the only words he spoke and the only sign of emotion he betrayed. A large force of deputies kept the way to the jail clear, and the murderer was soon behind the bars again. The date of the execution is not yet fixed.

STEALING FROM STANFORD.

How Two Men Got Away with the Senator's Fine Cattle.

MARYSVILLE, Feb. 25 .- A. Schubert a small farmer living in the footbills near Brown's valley, was arrested last night on a warrant from Tehama county, charging him with grand larency. It appears that Schubert has a prother-in-law in the employ of Senaor Stanford at Vina, and that this relator Stanford at Vina, and that this relative and Schubert have been systematically robbing the ranch of many of its marketable beeves. The modus operandi was for the brother-in-law to drive the stock down to Schubert's, place, which is very secluded, and after the latter had rebranded them and they were ready for market, he would bring them to this cay to dispose of them to P. C. Slattery, and in this way they have got away with about twenty-five head. Slattery thought it was strange that Schubert should be possessed of so much stock so suddenly, and though he will prehably be loser he assisted in fastening the guilt. Schubert was taken to Red Bluff to-day.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 25.— The French ship Isle de Marthe sank here yesterday, carrying down with her the Vallet dry dock, entailing a loss of Vallet dry dock, entailing a loss of $200,000. The Isle de Marthe sailed for Havre with 4,400 bales of cotton on January 15 h. She sprang a leak when three days out, returned to this port, unloaded her cargo and went into the dry dock to be overhauled. When being raised she suddenly crashed through the side of the dock and carried it down with her. The dock, which was the finest lo the city, was valued at $100,000, and is a total loss, as there was no insurance. The ship is valued at $100,000 and she is fully insured in foreign companies.

ELKO, February, 22, 1888. EDITOR GAZETTE:-The present

February thus far has been by all odds the most agreeable that has ever been experienced by our citizens or by that mythical individual known as the oldes inhabitant. Grass is now peeping out upon all the sunny hillsides and all nature seems to be in gentle repose under the mild and soft rays of the king of day. The temperature at night scarcely falls below forty degrees above zero. Everybody seems to be well pleased with himself and his neighbor and contentment to succeed a seem of all of California) who have to succeed a seem of all assern. seems to spread over all eastern Nevada as our future never seemed so bright and full of promise as at present. The immense bands of all kinds of stock that roam over all kinds of stock that roam over will not soon be forgotten. In view of the fact that the central and northern parts of California are claiming a great deal of has been studied, but altitude as attention at the present time, a reporter of the San Francisco Chronicle called on M. It was necess ry for the company to cancel several engagements. Mrs. Cotton claimed that if the hotel had been proceeds. had been properly lighted the ac-cident would not have occurred. She brought suit for $10,000 damages, and the case will be called in the Superior Court at Coiusa next week. Mme. Janauschek, the cel-ebrated actress, recently won a similar suit—for $12,000—in an eastern town.

Locating Claims. Senator Stewart has introduced a bill to the Senate changing the time of relocating claims from the time of relocating claims from the let of January to the 1st of July each year. As the law now stands a prospector risks his life almost every time he goes to relocate a claim, especially during a New Year day like the last one. Most of the claims are found on high mountain ranges, and when they are covered with deep snow and the thermometer 40 or 50 degrees below zero the task of locating is attended with risk of loss of life.

THE COMSTOCK.

The Days of Dummy Directors on the Wane.

The San Francisco Post still keeps up its warfare on the various "milling propositious" on the Comstock. and in its issue of 28d inst. says "The Comstock is to-day the greatest mineralized lode in the world. The wealth which it contains is absolutely unlimited. An economical and honest administration of the many mines along its entire length would enrich those who invest in its shares millions of dollars. To-day the very name stinks in the nostrils of the community.

"The reason therefor is very clear. Some seven or eight men own mills along this lode; they also, by the aid of dammy directors, control the mines. The enormous wealth contained in the mines is extracted for their benefit alone. The board of dummy directors in the mine contract with another set of dummies in control of the mills by which means exorbitant rates are permit-ted for milling the ore, which, in reality, belongs to the unfortunate holder of the stock, who looks at his certificates and ponders over the disappearance of the ore, the development which induced the invest-ment. There is not one of these milling contracts to-day which would stand a legal investigation. They are, one and all, made by the parties in the interest of themselves.

"In the major portion of the leading mines to day the men who benefit by the ore bodies own little, if any, real interest in the mines.
They rely for control wholly and solely on the liberality with which brokers come forward with proxies of their customers' stock, which in nine cases out of ten places the men in power to abuse the interest of the real owners. It may not be gen-erally known that a broker has not a right to vote stock which he may hold on margin account. The owner of it has the legal right to instruct the broker who may hold his account that he wishes his stock to be voted in a certain interest. A refusal of the broker to do so would in turn invalidate the election.
This proxy system should be abolished. The real owners of the mines should mill their own ores and have their interests fully and honestly represented in the board. The day of quietly winking at these matters is past, and a cry for re-form is now so general that some immediate changes must take place. or they will be enforced.

cried the delighted captain.
"Who's shoutin'?" inquired the barkeeper, as he ranged a score of glasses on the counter and reached for the whisky bottle.

The last sentence was but half finished when the blizzard terror suddenly vanished through the swinging door head first, propelled by a pile driver kick from the bar-keep's boot, who had suddenly and mysteriously appeared in front of the counter. the counter.

It is located eight miles from the notated in Section. delightful of all the country roads in New ads. It is located eight miles from the no and in a fertile agricultural section. The ranch consists of about 950 acres and a valuable water right. The ranch has long had the reputation of being one of the most productive of its size of all the ranches in the Truckee Meadows. This year it has produced 800 tons of hay, pasture for 200 head of s ock, vegetables and other products in value about $9,000. By the expen fiture of a few hundred dollars the ranch could be made to be even much more productive than it is at present. The soil is admirably adapted to the raising of alfalfa, stock and vegetables. It has an excellent house, barn and other buildings, a good orchard and other improvements. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Possesses the greatest possible power to heal and control affections of the throat and lungs, with absolute safety for children or adults. The experience of years has proven it to be of inestimable value as a household medicine, and for professional use. Thousands of physicians and families testify to its great worth. Jss. E. Moling, Hillard, Ohio, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twelve years, and have found that, as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, or Sore Throats, it

Is Unequaled. -

J. I. Miller, editor of the "Lutheran Home," Luray, Va., writes: "I advertise nothing that I do not know to be good. I was saved from the grave, I am ture, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and have recommended it to others with the happlest results." L. J. Addison, M. D., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have never found, in thirty-dwe years of continuous study and practice in medicine, any preparation of so great value as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs; and I constantly recommend it to my patients. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is effective in relieving the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

John J. Uhlman, Brooklyn, N.S., writes: "Twelve years ago, I was afflicted with a severe bronchial trouble, pronounced by a skilful physician to be very dangerous, and liable to terminate in Pneumonia. After using one bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I found great relief, and an occasional use of it since that time has, I think, extended my life ten years at least." Mrs. V. M. Thebaud, Montreal, Canada, writes: "Last spring my daughter was attacked by membraneous croup, or diphtheria. Being still very weak and sick, she began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which restored her to vigorous health."

The little red cow is patient,
She never will fret or moan
Because of the bare, bleak pastures
When summer's warm days have flown.
She knows that the rain and sunshin s
Alike on our lives are shed;
She looks for a better future,
This trim little cow in red.

A modest and patient woman
Who cares not when g ory calls,
Can build an annex to Heaven
Between four roughened walls;
When many a stately lady,
Who begs for the world's renown,
Will find her home sunshine darkened,
Her happiness tyample down. And thus does the little Devon.
Untouched by the blinding glare
Of glory, work on, and ever
Seek bravely to do her share.
Then here's to the little Devon,
This wreath for her shapely head,
This beautiful medest Devon,
The trim little cow in red.

A correspondent of the Burnet Iowa) Bulletin gets the situation down about right in the following: As free grass is getting to be a thing of the past, and the whoop of the wild cowboy is dying away in the distance, and "going up the trail in the spring" is played out, now the question naturally arises, how are we to make cattle raising profitable in the future? As chin music is cheap, I will make a few suggestions, and the readers of the Bulletin can take them for what they are worth: "In the first place, we are raising too many half starved cattle and not enough fat ones. We are crowding and overstocking our pastures and ranges until about the only revenue we get now is the sale of hides in winter; in fact, we are going too much on the quantity and not enough on the quality. Now, in my opinion, the remedy is this: Sell off about one-half the cattle we now have; cut up our large pastures into small ones; reserve our best winter grass for winter range, and in the fall pick out our fattest stock and put them in this reserved pasture for winter beef. If fat when put in there in the fall they will stay fat until the first of January. Then with some hay, cotton seed and a little corn, we can keep them in first-class condition till about the first of March, then put them on the market and they will sell for first-class corn-fed beef. Good cattle are never a drug on the market at this season of the year, and always command top figures. Some will ask, how are we to sell off and reduce our stock one-half and no buyers to buy them? If we cannot sell we can spay up our cows and heifers and thus reduce our stock as low as we wish. This kind of OSBORN & SHOEMAKER, loss in spaying is not considered more than three per cent. The cold winters of the far northern territories make cattle raising there uncertain and unprofitable. The drouth last season in many of the western and middle states, causing thousands of cattle to be put on the market last fall even at low prices, will certainly cause an upward tendency in the meat market in the near future, and I predict before we see the last of 1888, beef will be higher than for many a year. We have got here by nature one of the best countries for working cheap beef in the United States, and if we don't make it, it will be because we don't try. The best livers of the United States, and of the world, love beef, and are going to have it. We are getting railroads all over the country, and shipping rates will be reduced. The world is moving and the sooner we get out of the old ruts and adjust ourselves to the new, the sooner we will become a happy and prosperous people.
